~ 2023 ~

"The way we spend our time defines who we are"

Dear Sampler Friends

I thank you for your patience with waiting for this design.

Sometimes life throws us a few curve balls (we have had our fair share of them) and we all need a little grace.

I finished this sampler in June - or - so I thought!

I was showing it to a friend and she gently and graciously showed me my error.

I had completely missed the letters ..... V & W.

(If you look closely at the background of this note you will see the original design with my error)

Subsequently I had to rip out all the lower part of my sampler, design the missing letters, redesign the bottom of the sampler and then stitch it again before taking it to be framed.

Next task was to write the design instructions, draw the stitch diagrams, plan the layout and type up the instructions and photograph the finished piece before taking it to the printer.

It is surprising how much time and thought all this takes.

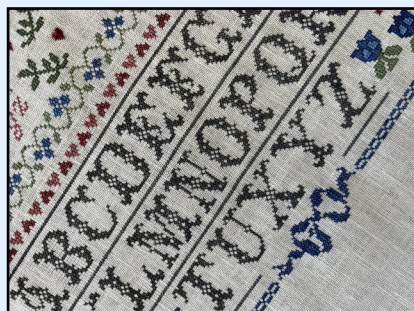

Most designers today have a model stitcher to stitch their designs and a graphic artist to create their design layouts in readiness for printing.

But - not me.

Now all completely finished and available for you to create this piece for yourself.

Again, thank you for your patience and understanding.

Sincerely,
Sherelyn

Definitely a final sneak peek at this sampler
